

GRADFACts

November 2010

THE NEW SCHOOL FOR SOCIAL RESEARCH

Mon 1 Spring Registration Begins	Tues 2 Economics Department Seminar	Wed 3	Thurs 4 Philosophy Workshop Refugees, the State, and Political Asylum in Africa	Fri 5 Janey Program Workshop
8 William Philips Lecture: Peter Pulzer TF Applications Due	9	10 Anthropology Public Lecture	11 Philosophy Workshop	12 Migration Works in Progress Series
15	16	17	18 Africa's Development in the 21st Century Janey Poetry Reading Philosophy Workshop	19 Africa's Development in the 21st Century Wittgenstein Workshop
22 Arts In Mind Conversation Series, Mental Health issues	23	24 Thanksgiving Break Nov 24th – 28th	25	26
29 Online Registration Ends	30 Economics Department Seminar			November 2010

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Control + click to link to any section of GRADFACTs listed below.

NEWS AND EVENTS - 4 -

STUDENT NEWS - 4 -

FACULTY NEWS - 5 -

NSSR EVENTS - 7 -

ANNOUNCEMENTS AND DEADLINES - 17 -

EXTERNAL FUNDING AND CAREER SERVICES - 24 -

WORKSHOPS - 26 -

FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES - 26 -

DIRECTORY - 27 -

NEWS AND EVENTS

Student News

Political Science PhD Candidate Natascha van der Zwan Wins Aspen Institute Award

On October 6, the Aspen Institute named Natascha van der Zwan, a PhD candidate in Political Science at The New School for Social Research, as a winner of the 2010 Shared Capitalism Dissertation Proposal Award. The award highlights doctoral work focusing on employee ownership. The institute praised van der Zwan's work, which explores American labor unions' use of "employee ownership and shareholder activism to challenge the pursuit of shareholder value maximization at the expense of jobs and compensation." Van der Zwan will receive a grant and will be honored at the Second Aspen in New York Business and Society Annual Forum on October 26–27, 2010.

Faculty News

Director of the Schwartz Center for Economic Policy Analysis, Teresa Ghilarducci, speaks on Capitol Hill

On Monday, October 18, Teresa Ghilarducci, Director of the Schwartz Center for Economic Policy Analysis at The New School for Social Research, traveled to Capitol Hill to brief congressional staff members and representatives on effective tax policy for retirement savings. Professor Ghilarducci will focus her comments on Guaranteed Retirement Accounts, a retirement reform proposal she developed to ensure universal retirement support and at the same time promote economic growth.

The meeting was organized to advise President Obama's National Commission on Fiscal Responsibility and Reform in their effort to address national policy goals through budget reform. Ghilarducci is joined by David Walker, president and founder of the Comeback America Initiative; Eric Toder, fellow at the Urban Institute; and Lawrence Mishel, president of Economic Policy Institute. Ghilarducci is a nationally renowned expert on retirement financing. She recently appeared on CBS's Evening News.

Assistant Professor of Economics Sanjay Reddy receives Grant from the Institute of New Economic Thinking

NSSR Economics faculty Sanjay Reddy was awarded a grant by the Institute for New Economic Thinking to write a book making a broad case for the resurrection of normative reasoning in economics.

In the face of arguably the worst economic crisis the world has faced, INET's Inaugural Grant Program has been designed to harness the new economic thinking recognized as crucial to effecting change. The program was launched during the summer of 2010 and received more than 500 applications from all over the world, with 31 grants awarded for a total of $3.8 million over three years.

The Institute is committed to supporting the next generation of economists and scholars in related fields who are rethinking economics for the 21st century. Project topics include political economy, inequality, theories of finance, empirical macroeconomics, human capital and growth, economic history, and theories of networks and systems.

NSSR Events

Economics Department Seminar: Tarron Khemraj

Tuesday, November 2nd 2010, 4:00 pm – 5:45 pm

The Economics Department Seminar will feature Tarron Khemraj, alumni and assistant professor of Economics at the New College of Florida. Khemraj will give a presentation entitled "Threshold Lending Rate, Excess Reserves and Stabilization during the 2007-2008 Financial Crisis."

Admission: Free; no tickets or reservations required
Location: 6 E 16th Street, 10th floor Room 1009

Refugees, the State, and Political Asylum in Africa

Thursday, November 4th 2010 4:00 pm – 6:00 pm

This event is co-sponsored by Global Studies, International Center for Migration, Ethnicity and Citizenship (ICMEC) and Latin America Forum. Panelists include James Milner of Carleton University and Aristide Zolberg of the NSSR.

Admission: Free; no tickets or reservations required
Location: 6 E 16th Street, 1103 New Wolff
Conference Room

NSSR Philosophy Workshop, Jay Elliot

Thursday, November 4th, 2010 6:00 pm – 8:00 pm

Jay Elliot of Yale University will present a paper entitled “Morality as Shopping.” An abstract is below.

Abstract: In the past decade, ethical consumerism has radically changed not only how we think about shopping, but also how we think about what it means to live and act ethically. Surprisingly, the phenomenon has received strangely little attention from professional moral philosophers. The few writers who have discussed ethical consumerism, such as Joseph Heath and Andrew Potter, tend to treat it simply as part of the larger phenomenon of “countercultural” consumerism: the marketing trend that told us we would be rebellious and creative if, say, we drank Mountain Dew. But ethical consumerism speaks to more than a generic thirst for individuality and distinction. It is also a response to the failure of real-world politics to come up with anything like adequate solutions to modern environmental and labor problems. Heath and Potter point out that collective solutions to these problems are what we really need, and that ethical consumerism has been more effective in creating a lifestyle aesthetic than in changing the world. But without any prospects for real political progress on the horizon, we can still ask: what should we think about ethical consumerism in the meantime?

Admission: Free; no tickets or reservations required
Location: 6 E 16th Street, 1103 New Wolff
Conference Room

William Phillips Lecture: Peter Pulzer

Monday, November 8th 2010, 6:00 pm – 7:30 pm

The New School for Social Research invites you to attend this year's William Phillips Lecture, at which Peter Pulzer presents a paper titled "Experiencing the 20th Century."

Peter Pulzer was born in Vienna, emigrated to Britain, and was educated at King's College Cambridge. From 1957 to 1996, he taught politics and modern history at Oxford and was the Gladstone Professor of Government and Fellow of All Souls College. His books include The Rise of Political Anti-Semitism in Germany and Austria, Jews and the German State: The Political History of a Minority, and German Politics 1945-1995.

William Phillips was the editor of Partisan Review for more than 60 years. During his tenure, Phillips discovered some of the foremost writers of his time. His unshackled mind and courage kept him at the forefront of the literary world until his death in September 2002.

Admission: Free, but seating is limited. Email mcnamard@newschool.edu to reserve
Location: Teresa Lang Student Center, 55 W 13th Street, 2nd Floor

Anthropology Public Lecture Series, Ariella Azoulay

Wednesday, November 10th 2010, 6:00 pm

Ariella Azoulay, Senior Lecturer in the Program for Cultural Studies at Bar Ilan University, will deliver a lecture as part of the NSSR Anthropology Lecture Series.

Admission: Free; no tickets or reservations required
Location: 80 5th Ave, 5th Floor Conference Room

NSSR Philosophy Workshop, Cheryl Misak

Thursday, November 11th 2010, 6:00 pm – 8:00 pm

Cheryl Misak of the University of Toronto will present a paper entitled "Pragmatism and Indispensability Arguments." An abstract of her paper is below.

A mark of pragmatism is the indispensability argument: we need to believe p , therefore p . William James put forward the most notorious version of this argument, while others have been more plausible. This paper will trace and evaluate indispensability arguments in the history of American pragmatism, especially as they pertain to the idea of truth.

Admission: Free; no tickets or reservations required
Location: 6 E 16th Street, 1103 New Wolff
Conference Room

Migration Works in Progress Series

Friday, November 12th 2010, 3:00 pm – 5:00 pm

Aristride Zolberg, "'Wanted but not Welcome: a theoretical analysis of labor migrations."

Admission: Free; no tickets or reservations required
Location: 6 E 16th Street, Room 716

From Impunity to Accountability:
Africa's Development in the 21st Century

Thursday and Friday, November 18th – 19th 2010

The Center for Public Scholarship presents the 22nd Social Research conference. Join for a two day event where distinguished experts discuss the challenges of African development as countries work to combat poverty, improve the protection of human rights, increase government accountability and transparency, improve electoral systems, and manage foreign aid.

The Keynote Address will be delivered by Tegegnework Gettu on Thursday November 18th at 6:00 p.m.

Other Featured Speakers include: George B. N. Ayittey, Robert Bates, Agnès Callamard, Befekadu Degefe, William Easterly, Kelechi A. Kalu, John Mukum Mbaku, Kristin McKie, Mueni wa Muiu, and Berhanu Nega.

Admission: free for students, alumni, and faculty, but space is limited. Visit <http://www.socres.org/africa> to reserve.

Location: Tishman Auditorium, 66 West 12th Street

Dreaming and Writing the Independent Nation: 200 years of Latin American Poetry

Thursday, November 18th 2010, 7:00 pm

The Janey Program in Latin American Studies at The New School for Social Research invites you to a celebration of 200 years of Latin American poetry.

How was our America Latina written and celebrated through the poems of those who dreamt and fought for an independent nation? What were the nation's rhythms, colors and souls in those poetic works? And how is independence thought about 200 years later, when borders are experienced as signs of exclusion rather than emancipation and when immigration flows have made of transnational lives and identities across the continent and beyond a reality? What is there to dream, write and imagine? What is the poem that dreams and writes the independent nation today?

With the participation of poets Tomás Galán, Nicolás
Linares, Felipe Martínez, Juana Ramos, Alina Peña, Gema
Santamaría, Amanda Siegel, Diego Vargas, and Isabel Zapata.

Admission: Free; no tickets or reservations required
Location: 80 5th Avenue, 5th Floor Conference Room

NSSR Philosophy Workshop, Matt Boyle

Thursday, November 18th 2010, 6:00 pm – 8:00 pm

Matt Boyle of Harvard University will present a paper entitled "Additive Theories of Rationality: A Critique." An abstract of his paper is below.

The author's aim is to raise difficulties for what are called additive theories of rationality: theories which hold that an account of the cognitive and active powers of a rational animal can begin with an account of what it is to perceive and desire, in terms which do not presuppose the capacity to reflect on reasons, and then can add an account of the capacity for rational thought as an independent capacity to monitor and regulate what we believe and how we act. He argues that such theories face two basic difficulties, each of which is structurally analogous to a classic problem for Cartesian dualism. He concludes by sketching an alternative, transformative framework in which to think about the cognitive and practical capacities of a rational animal.

Admission: Free; no tickets or reservations required
Location: 6 E 16th Street, 1103 New Wolff
Conference Room

Wittgenstein Workshop, Simo Säätelä

Friday, November 19th 2010, 11:00 am – 1:00 pm

Simo Säätelä of the University of Bergen will present a paper entitled "Wittgenstein on Aesthetics, Mathematics, and Philosophical Method." An abstract of the paper is below.

In Wittgenstein's work we can find scattered remarks on philosophy and its methods. Perhaps the most famous of these is the comparison of methods in philosophy to different therapies (PI § 133). However, the attention given to this particular analogy threatens to lead to a one-sided view of Wittgenstein's conception of philosophy. In this paper the author, instead, looks at another, frequently neglected analogy, occurring in two remarks from 1937 where Wittgenstein wants to draw attention to "the strange resemblance between a philosophical investigation (especially in mathematics) and an aesthetic one". She shows how this analogy can shed light on some key features of Wittgenstein's philosophy by arguing that the "methodological" similarity that Wittgenstein alludes to has to do especially with the idea of "a synopsis of trivialities" or a "perspicuous representation", i.e. the Darstellungsform that is fundamental to his later philosophical work.

Admission: Free; no tickets or reservations required
Location: 80 5th Ave, 5th Floor Conference Room

Arts in Mind Conversation Series, Mental Health Issues; Mary Karr

Monday, November 22nd 2010, 8:00 pm – 10:00 pm

Arts in Mind is a series of conversations with leading figures in the literary, visual, multimedia, and performing arts whose work touches on mental health issues. The third event in the series consists of an evening with Mary Karr, acclaimed memoirist and poet.

Mary Karr regards herself primarily as a poet, though she is most widely known for her best-selling memoirs. Her most recent book Lit: A Memoir is the story of her alcoholism, recovery, and conversion to Catholicism. This event is sponsored by Erikson Institute for Education and Research of the Austen Riggs Center and the Sandor Ferenczi Center at the New School for Social Research.

Admission: Free; no tickets or reservations required
Location: Teresa Lang Student Center, 55 W 13th Street, 2nd Floor

Economics Department Seminar, Arslan Razmi

Tuesday, November 30th 2010, 4:00 pm – 5:45 pm

Economics Department Seminar featuring Arslan Razmi, professor of UMass Amherst will present a talk titled: “The Real Exchange Rate as an Instrument of Development Policy.”

Admission: Free; no tickets or reservations required
Location: 6 E 16th Street, 10th floor Room 1009

The Janey Program Annual Workshop Series

The Janey Program at the NSSR supports fellowships for students from Latin America and the Caribbean who are pursuing graduate studies at the school, summer fellowships for fieldwork and research in Latin America and the Caribbean, an annual conference, lectures, and occasional visits to The New School by scholars from Latin America. The program’s ongoing Latin America: History, Economy, and Culture workshop provides an interdisciplinary space for students and faculty from the Inter-University Doctoral Consortium, as well as visiting scholars, to present and discuss their ongoing research. The workshop meets every month at The New School for Social Research.

This fall, you can attend Janey Program Workshops with summer fellowship awardees reporting on their research on the following dates:

Nov. 5th
Dec. 3rd
Feb. 11th
Mar. 4th
Apr. 8th
May 6th

All sessions of the Janey Workshop will take place from 12:00 – 2:00 in the conference room on the 5th floor of 80 5th Ave.

ANNOUNCEMENTS AND DEADLINES

2011-2012 University-Wide Call for Applicants Teaching Fellowship Opportunities Applications due November 8, 2010.

Mission Statement

Teaching is at the core of the academic enterprise of The New School. Teaching Fellows are considered apprentice teachers and, as such, play an important role in an educational environment that supports the university's historic mission to develop life-long learners. To support this role the university provides its advanced graduate students with opportunities to obtain education, training, mentoring, and experience in college and graduate-level teaching.

Service as Teaching Assistants in undergraduate or graduate courses is considered an important early step in this apprenticeship process to become future teachers. An appointment as a Teaching Fellow represents the natural progression in this training program. An invitation to become a returning teacher of undergraduates is a sign of confidence in one's ability and future potential. All of these steps and stages are integral to developing future teachers and providing quality instruction to our undergraduates.

Teaching Fellows serve as the instructor of record with independent responsibility for the course. They work under the supervision of a department or program chair in the Division/Program in which they teach. They are also considered apprentice teachers and, as such, will have already participated in the University Pedagogy Seminar and new Faculty Orientation prior to teaching, or will do so the semester in which they teach. Teaching Fellows are selected through the University Teaching Fellowship Program application process coordinated by the Provost's Office. Teaching Fellows may teach courses in the discipline of their own graduate major, in related disciplines where an interdisciplinary approach to teaching is encouraged and/or warranted, as well as in courses designed to develop research skills and other proficiencies, such as mathematics and statistical methods, and foreign languages.

Criteria for Eligibility:

Applicants must meet the following minimum requirements for appointment by the time of application:

- Must be accepted into a doctoral program. (Exceptions might be made for terminal degree Master's students who have previous teaching experience.)
- Must have achieved a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.4
- Must have 2/3 of attempted coursework complete (not more than 1/3) with grades of "incomplete".
- Must be within the time limit for attaining their degree
- Must be matriculated full-time (enrolled in courses or maintaining status) in the semester in which they teach
- FOR MASTERS STUDENTS: Must be admitted to a Ph.D. program, or must have the expectation that 50% of Master's degree program will be completed during the semester in which the Teaching Fellowship application is submitted. Students in this category will be deemed "Tentatively Eligible" at the time of application, and a final review of eligibility will occur once grades are posted for the semester.
- Additional qualifications may be set by the Chair or Director of the hiring department or program.

Duties as a Teaching Fellow:

- Revise syllabus as needed in consultation with appropriate divisional faculty member or Department Chair/Program Director who will determine and clarify (if needed) course goals and objectives for student learning
- Develop all assignments in consultation with appropriate divisional faculty member, Chair, or Director
- Assess all student learning including assignments, papers, projects and attendance
- Make themselves available to students for individual academic assistance
- Participate in a Pedagogy Seminar in the first semester they are teaching as a Teaching Fellow if they have not already done so as a Teaching Assistant
- Familiarize themselves with student services and other academic support so that students can be referred for support or assistance as needed
- Abide by all divisional and university academic and personnel policies and guidelines

Graduate Students may teach only one course each semester as a Teaching Fellow.

Application Procedure:

The completed application consists of the following documents:

- A completed application form
- A cover letter that addresses your academic and professional goals and projects a timetable for completion of your degree
- A curriculum vitae (vitae should detail academic courses taken at the graduate level and any prior teaching, including Teaching Assistant, experience)
- A short paragraph describing each of two to four courses you would be interested in teaching and why. Note: this is an application exercise intended to develop a sense of your teaching potential and not a formal proposal for teaching a new course; Teaching Fellows are normally assigned to courses needed by the program. Please also list foundational courses in the discipline(s) you are qualified to teach.

Please email all of these documents to graduatestudentteaching@newschool.edu, with the Subject Heading of the email: "Teaching Fellowship". Additional information about how the application materials should be titled and in what order, can be found on the application form.

Timetable for Application Process:

Week of

11.8.10 Deadline for electronic application submission

11.21.10 Provost's Office emails ineligible students notification of their status

1.24 - 2.4.11 Provost's Office emails students with Teaching Fellowship appointment notifications

2.7.11 Provost's Office emails students not receiving Teaching Fellowships

2.7 - 4.29.11 Provost's Office mails appointment letters

This document and others related to the 2011-2012 Teaching Fellowship, including the Application Form can be found at www.newschool.edu/admin/provost/students/teachingfellowships

Contact Karen Hudson with questions or concerns: 212-229-8947 ext. 2273 or HUDSONK@NEWSCHOOL.EDU.

Fee Board Call for Submissions

It's Fee Board time! The Fee Board offers anyone who participated in academic conferences during the summer or fall semester of 2010 limited reimbursement for the costs incurred (some registration fees and some travel & accommodation expenses). The deadline for submission this semester will be Monday, December 6 at 5pm.

If you wish to be reimbursed, please read and follow these directions carefully.

The Fee Board is allocated a limited amount of funds from the Graduate Faculty Student Senate each year. They consider reimbursing conference registration fees, as well as legitimate travel and accommodation expenses. In order to be considered for reimbursement, we will need you to submit the following documents:

1. A completed Fee Board Application briefly summarizing the expenses for which you are seeking reimbursement.
2. Original ITEMIZED receipts, boarding passes, travel ticket stubs, etc. Credit card statements are not sufficient since they do not include an itemized account of what is to be reimbursed. Hotel bills and conference registration receipts must include the nature of each charge. While priority will be given to itemized receipts, if one cannot be provided, please make your best effort to provide a substitute (a print-out of the conference home page including fees, etc.).
3. A copy of the conference program indicating when and where you presented a paper, and that you represented the New School while doing so.

When you have assembled these documents, submit them to the Office of Academic Affairs (Monday - Friday, 10-6pm). The office is located at 6 East 16th Street room 1007D. The deadline for submissions is Monday, December 6 by 5pm.

NO LATE APPLICATIONS WILL BE ACCEPTED

IF YOU ARE MAILING YOUR APPLICATION, IT MUST BE RECEIVED BY MONDAY, DECEMBER 6

The Fee Board convenes to assess each submission. Subsequent to this meeting, each request for reimbursement will be approved by Academic Affairs and forwarded to the New School University Accounting department for processing. Successful applicants should receive checks by mail by the beginning of January – though the Fee Board cannot guarantee this date. No further notification will be sent to students who receive or do not receive reimbursement. Copies of all reimbursements and unused original receipts will be held in the Office of Academic Affairs.

For questions about the Fee Board, please contact your department Fee Board representative:

Fee Board Chair: Jon Cogliano, coglj268@newschool.edu

Anthropology: Thenera Bailey, bait549@newschool.edu

Economics: Sedar Pougaza, pougs978@newschool.edu

Historical Studies: Jordan Somers, somej724@newschool.edu

Liberal Studies: Camila Andrade Gripp, andrc675@newschool.edu

Philosophy: Trevor Arthur, artht458@newschool.edu

Politics: Tausif Khan, khant101@newschool.edu

Psychology: Nicole Belletti, belln542@newschool.edu

Sociology: Berfu Aygenc, aygeb017@newschool.edu

Reminder for Students Completing Study this Semester

Students expecting to complete their studies in December 2010 must file a Graduation Petition with the University Registrar's Office at the lower level of 72 Fifth Ave. The University cannot confer degrees or certificates for students who have not filed a petition. The fee to file a petition after November 1st is $50. The final deadline to file a petition is November 15th. Forms are available at the Registrar's Office at 72 Fifth Ave, lower level and online for MA and PhD graduates at MyNewSchool (click on the Student Tab and download the Graduation Petition, which is listed under the forms section). Please note, the commencement ceremony for fall graduates is held in May.

EXTERNAL FUNDING AND CAREER SERVICES

The Office of Academic Affairs provides external funding and scholarships information and career guidance to New School for Social Research students. Services include: (1) providing students with scholarships and funding information; (2) assisting NSSR students with CV, cover letter and resume writing, interviewing skills, and job search strategies; (3) workshops and information sessions on various topics including: CV workshops (every month), SPIN database tutorial (twice a semester), Grant Writing workshop, Fulbright workshop, and information sessions on Academic and Non-Academic Careers in Social Sciences.

Career Services Office Hours

Individual appointments can be made Monday through Friday by appointment.

Send an email to kraember@newschool.edu, or call 212.229.3790.

Contact Career Services

Beatrice Kraemer

NSSR Office of Career Services

Room 1007C

79 Fifth Avenue

New York, NY 10003

Phone: (212) 229-3790

Fax: (646) 486-0755

Email: NSSRcareerservices@newschool.edu

Chronicle of Higher Education

The Chronicle of Higher Education, a great source of news, information, and job postings for college and university faculty members and administrators, is available for review and reading in the Office of Academic Affairs.

SPIN Database

SPIN is a computer database with detailed and up-to-date information about thousands of federal, non-federal, and international opportunities. SPIN contains information from more than 1,200 different sponsoring agencies, and lists over 11,000 separate funding opportunities.

How to access SPIN?

- Log on <http://www.infoed.org>
- Click Access InfoOffice
- Click SPIN

Now you can search the SPIN search page. You are strongly encouraged to set your search criteria and run an advanced search tailored to your needs. One major advantage of SPIN is that you may check for upcoming deadlines for the current week, the current month and the next month. Please refer to the instructions and search tips provided behind the HELP button. You may also pick up a brochure on how to use this database in the NSSR office. NOTE: you can only access SPIN via an on-campus computer.

Also visit the following link:

http://www.newschool.edu/gf/students/finaid_external-funding.htm

Workshops

Cover Letter Writing for Non-Academic Jobs

Thursday, November 4th 2010, 5:30 pm - 7:00 pm

Learn how to write a cover letter that someone actually wants to read. See what needs to be included, what you can and have to leave out, and what will really sell your skills and get you the job interview. Bring a job description that interests you and practice on the spot.

Location: 6 East 16th Street, 10th floor, room 1005

Job Interview Skills for Non-Academic Jobs

Thursday, November 19th 2010, 5:30 pm - 7:00 pm

Learn what to anticipate in the interview, how to answer "trick" questions and how to prepare for those questions that seem to come out of left field. Bring a job ad and practice in a mock interview.

Location: 6 East 16th Street, 10th floor, room 1005

Funding Opportunities

Boren Awards for International Study

Boren Fellowships, administered by NSEP (National Security Education Program), provide up to $30,000 to graduate students who want to add an international and language component to their education through area study and language study in countries deemed critical to U.S. interests. Fellowships are awarded to graduate students from disciplines such as urban affairs, political science, international affairs, communications, language studies, history, environmental studies, and more.

Applicants must be U.S. citizens who are currently enrolled, or who will be enrolled, in accredited U.S. graduate schools at the time the fellowship begins and must remain enrolled for the duration of the fellowship.

The application deadline is Thursday, January 27, 2011. For information, Visit the Boren Fellowship web page.

DIRECTORY

New School for Social Research

Michael Schober, Dean

Robert Kostrzewa, Associate Dean of Academic Planning and Administration

John VanderLippe, Associate Dean of Faculty and Curriculum

Ellen Freeberg, Assistant Dean of Curriculum and Academic Affairs
Tsuya Yee, Director of Academic Support
Beatrice Kraemer, Director of Career Services
Kevin Shea, Office Manager
Catherine Ruetschlin, Coordinator of Student Advising
Liz Ziff, Student Assistant
Melissa Monroe, Graduate Writing Coordinator

Student Advisor Directory

Anthropology, Tyler Boersen
(AnthAdvisor@newschool.edu), 212.229.5757, x3016
Anthropology Fax: (212) 229-5595

Economics, Kate Bahn
(Econadv@newschool.edu), 212.229.5717, x3049
Economics Fax: (212) 229-5724

Historical Studies, Jordan Somers
(HistAdv@newschool.edu), 212.229.5376, x4926
Historical Studies Fax: (212) 229-5929

Liberal Studies, Camila Andrade Gripp
(AndrC675@newschool.edu), 212.229.2747, x3029
Liberal Studies Fax: (212) 929-2456

Philosophy, Eric Godoy
(PhilAdvisor@newschool.edu), 212.229.5707, x3080
Philosophy Fax: (212) 807-1669

Political Science, Gerasimos Karavitis

(PolSciAdv@newschool.edu), 212.229.5747, x3086

Political Science Fax: (212) 807-1669

Psychology, Elinor Bock, Kristin Stephenson, Dana Wohl

(BockE72@newschool.edu); 212.229.5727 x3108

(StepK452@newschool.edu); 212.229.5727 x3107

(WohlD699@newschool.edu); 212.229.5727 x3109

Psychology Fax: (212) 989-0846

Sociology, Daniel Sherwood

(SocAdvisor@newschool.edu), 212.229.5737, x3129

Sociology Fax: (212) 229-5595

The NSSR's monthly newsletter is found on the University's web site at

<http://www.newschool.edu/nssr/gradfacts/>

Send items and comments to:

NSSRAcademicAffairs@newschool.edu